The Class of Two Thousand Twelve Presents
The 128th Edition of Oak, Lily, and Ivy

“Then here’s the oak, brave old oak,
Who stands in his pride alone;
And still flourish he, a hale green tree,
When a hundred years are gone.”

“Ye lilies, bathed in morning dew,
Of purity, and innocence, renew
Each lovely thought.”

“Oh! A dainty plant is the ivy green,
That creepth o’er ruins old!
Of right choice food are his meals,
T’ween, in his cell so lone and cold.”

“Fast he stealeth on, though he wears no wings,
And a staunch old heart has he;
How closely he twineth, how tight he clings,
To his friend, the huge oak tree!”

Surviving High School: Developing Our Theme

The first and most important task a yearbook staff takes on is choosing a theme. A good theme, creatively and consistently developed, makes what might otherwise be a simple picture book into something so much more.

Going into the year twenty-twelve, there was an immediate inclination to use the apocalypse theme that is currently so pervasive in pop culture (and in our own minds because of the weather, the economy, and the social and political uprisings across the globe). However, we wanted to take a more personal and reflective look at what surviving 2012 means to seniors at MHS.

After many meetings we expanded the theme to include issues and incidents that many students experience in getting through their days as they walked these halls or the halls of any high school in America. We reflect on the changes and inconveniences that are common to all high school students and those that may be particular to Milford High at this point in time.

Throughout the book look for references to our "Home" field in Medway - an issue our football team and superfans have survived that will certainly lead us to a better field coming soon to West Fountain Street!

Other survivable memories include the new tardy policy and the removal of doors from many restrooms - policies implemented for good reason that become the subject of many lunchroom conversations. What we want to point out in highlighting these memories is the fact that we have survived them and we are better for it - more responsible, more aware, and more mature for each new experience that we encountered and survived.

We also look at some of the more comic moments like Freshmen surviving the unusual color they were assigned for their class t-shirts, and Harvest Dance attendees surviving the early onslaught of snow in October. Other memories are of Sophomores surviving their first highschool MCAS experience with the added concern that it may affect graduation, and Juniors surviving endless prom preparations, and of course, Seniors dealing with their first, but hardly last, bout of Senioritis. The sum of these survived moments along with the countless great experiences provided by our teachers and administrators over the past four years are what make us, the Class of 2012, a class to be remembered for surviving twenty-twelve in style and with pride!

-The O.L.I. Yearbook Editorial Staff

We would like to thank our Administrators for helping us survive our years of high school. As Freshmen, Mrs. Banach organized our orientation and welcomed us to our new school. As our wings began to grow, Mr. McIntyre helped us to stay in line and carry only as much as we could handle. Our team of administrators has worked tirelessly to make our high school experience the best it could be, and we appreciate all they have done for us. We believe that with their guidance we will make it through 2012 just as we have the previous years. What we have learned from our three administrators will not be forgotten as we pass on our experience to the people we meet in all of our future endeavors.

Mr. Michael McIntyre

Mrs. Carolyn Banach

A Letter from Mr. Tempesta

Dear Class of 2012,

It is with respect, admiration and humility that I offer you words of encouragement and advice as you embark on the next adventures in your lives as graduates of Milford High School. Congratulations on persevering and "surviving" your high school years, despite all of the hysteria, hyperbole and general "hype" about the Mayan prophecy concerning the end of the world. As MHS graduates steeped in erudition, critical thinking skills and, of course, "street smarts," remember the three most important things about the so-called "Mayan Calendar 2012 Apocalypse." First, according to many sources, the Mayans did not predict anything specific that would occur in December of 2012, just that this is the end of the calendar cycle. Secondly, why is this end of the world prophecy any different from the hundreds of others we have survived that have been posited since the beginning of recorded history? Lastly, and most importantly, your achievements, accomplishments and spirit speak for themselves and this is no time to change course or diminish the passion that has defined who you are right now. The lessons that you have learned at Milford High School will guide you throughout your lives, and like our mascot, the Scarlet Hawk, you will continue to thrive and flourish as you adapt to the changes you will face in your new surroundings.

The first words of advice I have for you are simple and timeless: never forget where you came from. Your families, teachers, coaches and mentors have worked tirelessly on your behalf and you should never forget their efforts, sacrifice and support. We are all so very proud of you, but that is not enough: now it is your turn. Trust yourselves and be true to yourselves by continuing to honor your families, community and school by excelling in all that you do! You will continue to thrive and serve your new environments, as well as the "global" community proudly by adhering to your core beliefs and convictions when you have to take a stand or make difficult decisions.

The next advice is derived and "adapted" from Harvard professor Ronald Heifetz, who writes and lectures on the subject of change and particularly of adaptive challenges that require "changing values, behaviors, roles, beliefs, relationships and approaches to work." The ways in which you currently communicate, learn and lead your lives are dramatically different from the ways your parents did things at your age - trust me, I have known many of your parents since the time we graduated from Milford High School many, many years ago. Although the physical MHS building has been relatively unchanged for generations and the passion for learning and participating in athletics, arts, music, theatre and community will always remain constant, you have successfully navigated the ever-changing course of state educational standards and rigorous academic curriculum. Moreover, even though the world economy and globalization has created new demands on your future education, mobility and career paths, you have the capacity to keep pace with this exponential rate of change because your internal, guiding compass will always remain fixed on your true course. The "life lessons" of cooperation, sacrifice and community that you have learned from your years at Milford High School will endure and guide you throughout your lives. Like the flourishing Scarlet Hawks (red-tailed hawks to be precise) on campus that have successfully adapted to harsh and often unpredicted environments, you too will soar in the face of the changing world you now seek to conquer, never phased by the threat of extinction, prospering for many generations to come.

Sincerely,

Senior Class Dedicates the 2012 Yearbook to Jennifer Walsh

The Class of 2012 proudly dedicates their yearbook to a woman for whom changing lives for the better is not just a job, but her way of life. Jennifer Walsh has touched the lives of countless individuals, not just in her classroom or the center, but in the entire high school and the greater Milford community. She has influenced each and every life she has touched in a positive way, so as to prove that each of us possess the ability to create change, teaching us that no matter what we feel our abilities are, they can always be pushed. Jen Walsh has brought with her an angel-esque personality that no one could disagree with, her words build dreams, her smile warms the heart, and her ability to listen gives hope. When the whole world seems to be too much, there is always that constant comfort to know that someone by the name of Jennifer Walsh is the light at the end of that tunnel, standing there with her arms held wide open. Jen Walsh, a changer, a passion creator, a dream pursuer; the class of 2012 sends our love and the simple message that, when graduation comes around, at least half of the caps thrown in the air will be thrown for you.

-The Class of 2012

It is my pleasure to state, in writing, what a tremendous asset Jennifer Walsh is, not only to the Milford Public Schools and the greater Milford community, but to a world that seems to be increasingly defined by self-interest. Quite honestly, I'm not sure that I have ever met a more compassionate and selfless person in my lifetime. I have known Jen during my tenure as a school administrator in Milford, but I really had the opportunity to appreciate her tireless and bounding energy when I came to the Central Administration Office as Superintendent of Schools. Having seen Jen in her element with Special Olympians, managing road races, and other benefit programs, as well as charting new ground with work placement opportunities for those in her care as a champion of individuals with disabilities, I am confident that she is unmatched!

Baby Pictures of the 2012 Survivors Released

MHS Guess Who?

We found baby pictures of a few faculty and staff members. Take a guess at who they are! You can look up the answers on page 256. Each person gave a clue that starts with the phrase: When I was young, I wanted to grow up and...

Alexandra Wolf

Who am I?

IN MEMORY

Laura Nardini

"You were the best sister I could have ever asked for and you will always be in my heart. I love you." -Christen

When tomorrow starts
without me,
And I'm not there to see;
If the sun should
rise and find your eyes
All filled with tears for me;
I wish so much
you wouldn't cry
The way you did today,
While thinking of the many things,
We didn't get to say.

I know how much you love me,
As much as I love you,
And each time that you think of me,
I know you'll miss me too;
But when tomorrow starts
without me,
Please try to understand,
That an angel came and
called my name,
And took me by the hand,
And said my place was ready,
In heaven far above,
And that I'd have to leave behind
All those I dearly love.

MHS Student Body Closer Than Ever

Over these years, the Class of 2012 survived events from Freshmen year to Senior year which included Pep Rallies and Spirit Week, Harvest Dance, four Fall Dramas, countless Best Buddies Dances, Sophomore Ring Dance, Junior Prom, and Senior Formal. These events brought the classes together as one. They displayed their school spirit at all of the events, whether it be at a dance, on stage, or in the bleachers. The memories they created will survive in their hearts forever.

RING DANCE

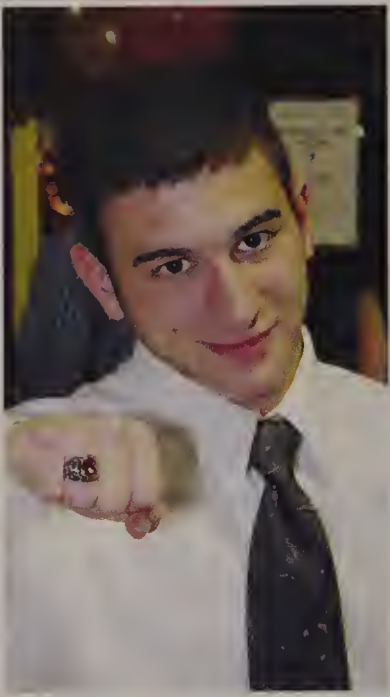

The Class of 2012 Celebrates Surviving Freshmen Year

As Sophomores, Ring Dance was a highly anticipated event, because it was the first dance that they shared together as a class. This dance was honored by the long lived tradition of receiving class rings; a custom that originated in 1835 at West Point Military Academy. Every Sophomore was given the opportunity to purchase and customize their own class rings, and on the night of Ring Dance, the rings were presented to each member of the class who ordered one. On November 7th, 2009, the class of 2012 put on their best dresses and their button down shirts for the first of many high school formal dances. The 2009 Ring Dance was a night of Hollywood glitz and glam, thanks to their "Red Carpet" theme. It was surely a night to remember. They survived their Freshmen year, and these rings were a symbol of their initiation into Milford High School.

"There wouldn't be a sky full
of stars,
if we were all meant to wish on the same one."

- Frances Clark

HARVEST DANCE

Harvest Dance Perseveres Despite Historic Snow Storm

Every year Harvest Dance wraps up Spirit Week and falls on the weekend of Halloween giving students the opportunity to dress up in costume. Students go all out as they compete in the costume contest voted on by the chaperones. This year, however, changes in the climate caused the dance to be postponed for a historic snow storm at the end of October! The change in date had no effect on the attendance of the students, leading to a successful dance the second week of November. Although Halloween was long past, the students still dressed up in festive costumes for the occasion. Dress code was strongly enforced in order to make sure costumes were appropriate. As the night came to an end, everyone was satisfied with the turn out of the dance and the fun they had being incognito.

If human beings had genuine courage, they'd wear their costumes every day of the year, not just on Halloween.

- Doug Coupland

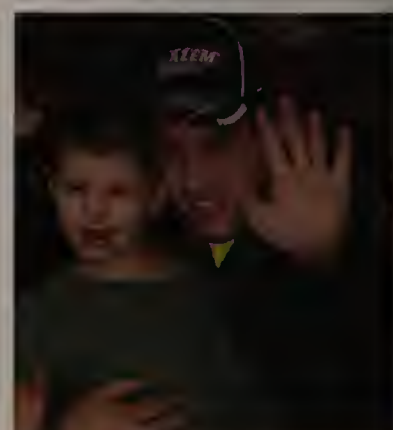

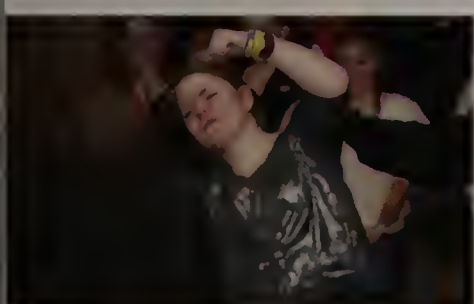

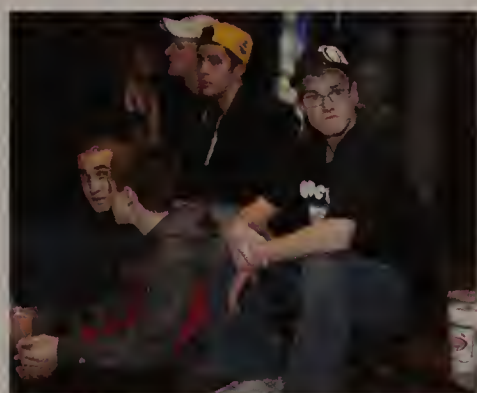

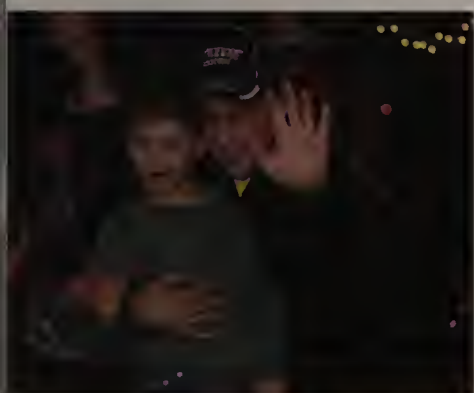

BEST BUDDIES

Best Buddies' High Spirits Endure the End of the World

Once a month the students at MHS come together to dance the night away with their favorite Buddies from the greater Milford area. Everyone enjoys themselves as the "Cotton Eyed Joe" and "Cha Cha Slide" play through the night. The cafeteria is strung with white lights as people fill the room taking baked goods to sweeten the mood even more. It is a wonderful time to see the smiles on everyone's face as bonds grow stronger between the peers. This is a highly anticipated night as the Buddies wait to intermingle with their friends. Best Buddies is a volunteer program that encourages interaction between students and people with disabilities, and these dances are an opportunity for Milford High School to do its part in making sure that each of the Buddies leaves the dance with a smile on their face.

JUNIOR PROM

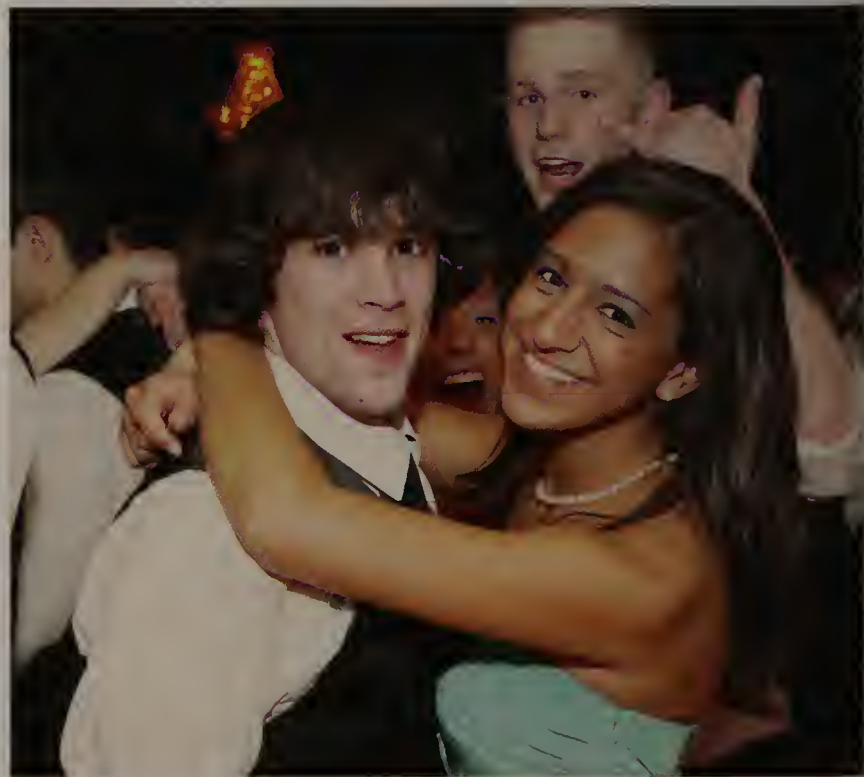

Juniors Survive Preparing for 2011 Prom

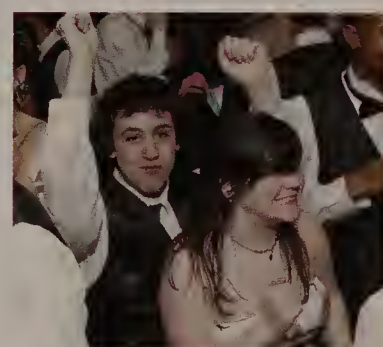

Decorated with simple, classic details, Lake Pearl, in Wrentham, welcomed the class of 2012 into their ballroom for a night full of memories. After months of searching for the perfect dress, tuxedo, and date, the night finally arrived. The room was full of color as each girl wore a different gown, and each boy a vest to match it. After the class of 2012 survived months of planning and preparation, as well as searching for the perfect date, the night turned out to be as picturesque as they could have imagined it. The years of anticipation for the class' first Prom proved to be well worth it, as the event was a night to remember. They danced away the evening to their favorite songs, despite some of the repeats. One of the most talked about events that occurred at the Prom was the DJ playing the "Chicken Dance" a few too many times, but nothing could discourage the dancing and the fun that happened at their first prom together.

"We're fools whether we dance or not,
so we might as well dance."

-Japanese
Proverb

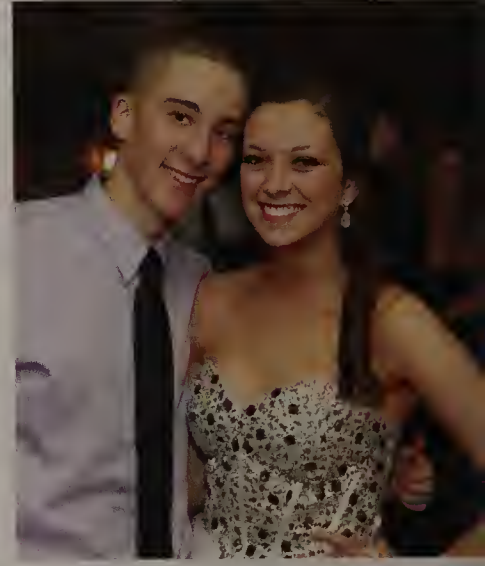

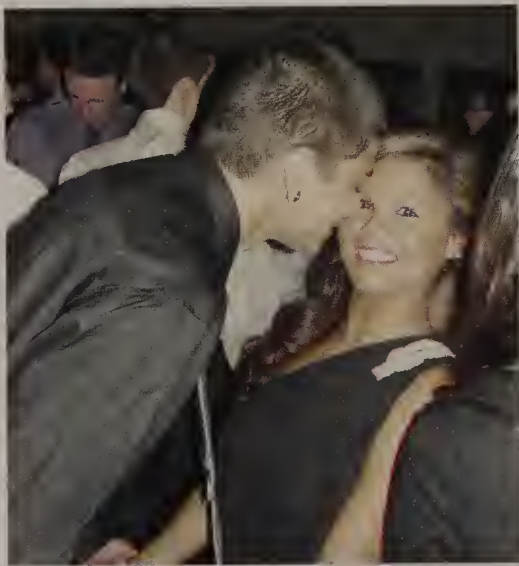

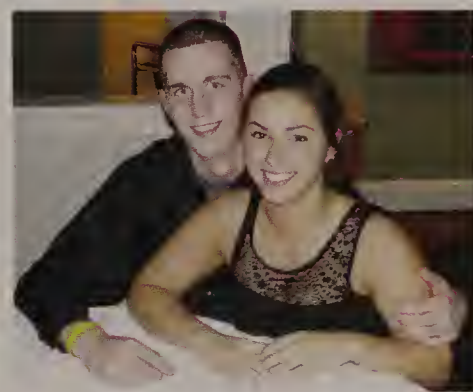

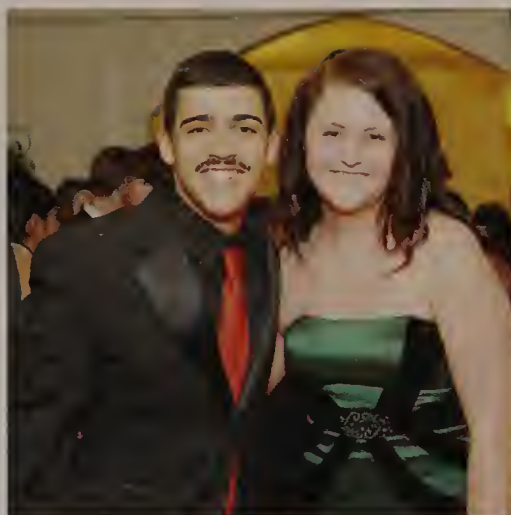

SENIOR FORMAL

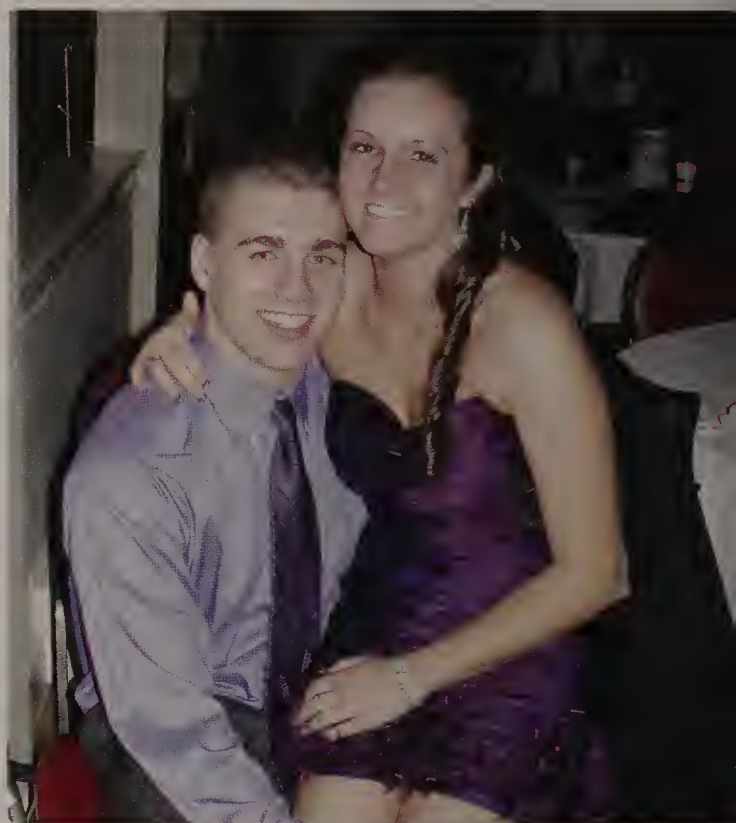

2012 Seniors Survive the Cold to Occupy Formal

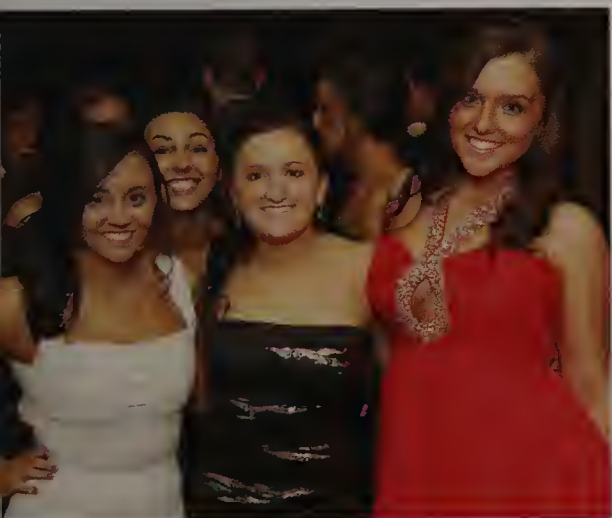

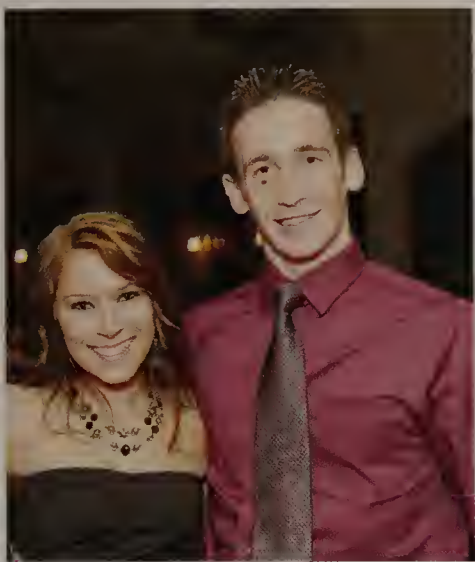

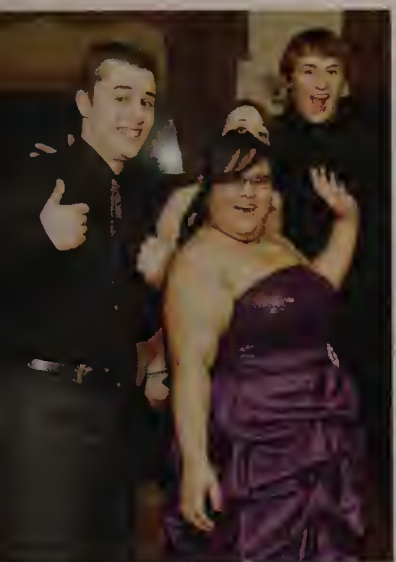

December 10th was the coldest night of the school year, but that did not deter any young women from wearing the hottest styles of the season. Strapless numbers, sequins, and high hemlines were the norm. The canoles, cupcakes, and candy kept the chaperones well fed while the Seniors and their dates danced, posed for countless cameras, and socilaized in the familiar surroundings of the Myriad Ballroom. While many seniors occupied their tables waiting for the next great song, they looked forward to the holiday break and a chance to make snowmen before worrying how they would survive semester's end.

"Sweet you rock
And sweet you roll
Lost for you I'm so lost for you"

-Dave Matthews Band

"Life may not be the party we hoped for, but while we are here, we should dance."

SPIRIT WEEK

Seniors Survive All Opponents

Spirit Week is the most anticipated week of the first semester; it is the week leading up to the Pep Rally. The 2011 Spirit Week included the following themes: Pajama Day, Tie-Dye/Neon Day, Sports/Hat Day, Twin Day, and Class Color Day. On the Friday of Spirit Week, everyone wore their class t-shirts, and the sections of the gym were divided by class and color. Since Milford has only three colors, red, white, and black, the Freshmen were assigned the color green.

The Seniors proudly wore their black t-shirts, while the Juniors wore red, Sophomores wore white, and the Freshmen wore their green t-shirts with pride. The Pep Rally sporting event was Dodgeball, and the Seniors survived the possibility of a humiliating loss to the faculty and Freshmen teams, as they beat both. Spirit Week and the Pep Rally were great ways to get the entire school revved up for the last "home" game of the year.

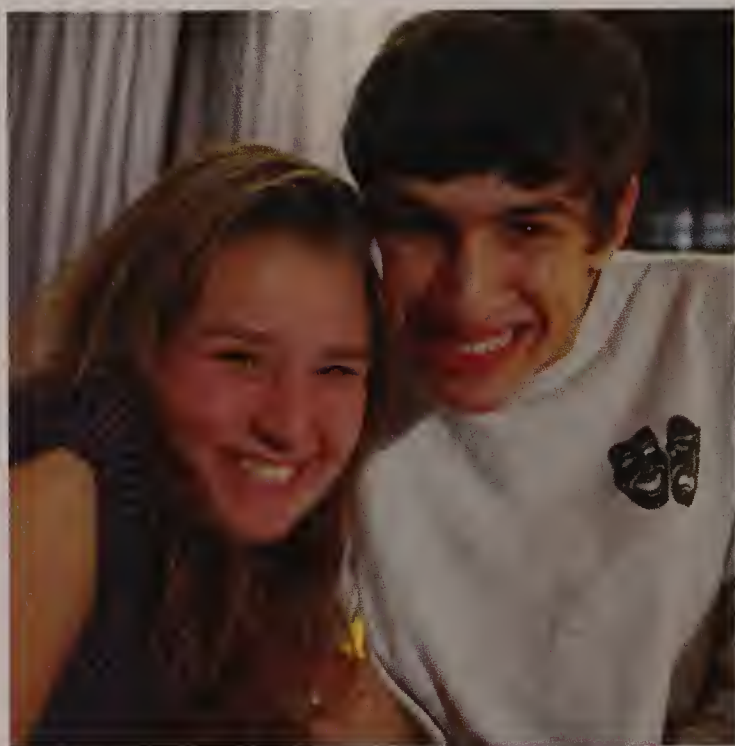

Charlie and the Chocolate Factory

In the year of 2011, the Milford High School Theater Workshop proudly presented "Charlie and the Chocolate Factory." After surviving many rehearsals and tech week, the cast, crew, and tech performed for roughly 300 people every night. Directors Nicole Banks, Almog Tabak, and choreographer Ali Wolff survived countless weeks of blocking and nights without sleep, along with smiles and tears during 'circle'. The members of crew did a wonderful job building the intricate set pieces while surviving the cramped time period they had to work with. The cast survived quick scene changes, and, for those of the ensemble, the orange paint, white sweatpants, and green hair they had to wear. The tech survived the tricky lighting design without making a single mistake. "Charlie and the Chocolate Factory" was the Workshop's last show for the year of 2011.

Freshmen Year 2008-2009

▲ August 27, 2008
First day at Milford High School.

▲ Freshmen struggled opening new lockers.

▲ Freshmen survived being cut in line by the upper classmen and the intimidation of mixed-grade lunches.

Sophomore Year 2009-2010

▲ We survived our first year! Time for Ring Dance!

▲ Class of 2012 survives their first taste of the SAT's with the PSAT's.

▲ Sophomores endure the long days of MCAS with tasty bagels and O.J. from NHS.

Junior Year 2010-2011

▲ The day we have all been waiting for! Finally upper-classmen!

▲ Here it begins! Time to survive the stress of our first AP courses.

▲ Let's talk college! SATs and college essays have begun.

Senior Year 2011-2012

▲ We made it! SENIORS 2012! Don't be late...

▲ Senioritis takes over the class of 2012 through AP courses and college applications.

▲ Despite our lack of a home football field, Medway HS became home to a very enthusiastic fan section!

▲ Student body survived Swine Flu breakout.

▲ "1-2 Coming Through" Freshmen survived their ultimate fear -- Pep Rally.

▲ What is that Stench? Who would have thought we'd have to survive stink bombs in the C-wing.

△ Sweet 16! Sophomores finally have the opportunity to get behind the wheel. It's permit time!

△ It's that time again! 1-2 Coming Through! Our last pep rally as underclassmen.

△ The Seniors fool the underclassmen with their casting call for zombies!

▲ Our first Pep Rally as upperclassmen! Truly a Kodak moment.

▲ 2012 survived the stress of dates, groups, and outfits! Junior Prom was a night to remember.

▲ Class till the end of June? Everyone - but the seniors - are stuck in school because of snow days!

▲ A stressful, but fun-filled semester comes to an end with Senior Formal and college acceptance letters!

▲ We made it to the finish line! Seniors celebrate the end of their 4 years at MHS with senior events and prom!

▲ June 3, 2012
Our day has finally come! A bitter-sweet goodbye to our faculty and friends at MHS.

Seniors Survive Gruelling Elections

We are told as children that our lives hold no limit; that we can be whoever we wish to be, and travel wherever we desire to go. But we are never told the difficulty such a pursuit requires, instead we are given an empty dream our family and friends hold for us. But today, it is our time to fill that dream. It is our time to take this dream and fill it with the success we are capable of. The only catch, it has to be your own. Every step you take the moment that diploma is handed to you is now at your will; however, the question lies, with what will you fill that future?

When I was younger I wanted to grow up to be a singer while other kids wanted to be doctors, teachers, lawyers, even astronauts. We all wanted to grow up to be something big. We wanted to win that game of knock-out at recess, be the line leader and ace Friday's spelling test; we had goals and knew what we wanted. Our recess and spelling tests are over and in front of us stands the real world, something bigger than all of us. This means little; we each have the potential to make something of ourselves in the world and it is up to us as to how we do it.

Seniors Survive the Tough Vote

Senior Superlatives are arguably the most fun part of every yearbook. The superlatives are given to the male and female Senior who gets the most votes in each category. The entire class voted, however, because the class of 2012 was such a talented and diverse class, they had a tough time deciding for who they thought should win. This led to extended deadlines, and the section was almost cut. The Seniors survived the tough vote, and the superlative section made its way into the yearbook. Of course, there were the standard "Best Eyes," "Best Smile," and "Best Dressed" categories but, to go along with the survival theme, "Most Likely to Survive the End of the World" made it stand out.

Survived Three Years, One to Go!

Surviving Junior year has been difficult and 2013 has handled it to the best of their ability which has not gone unnoticed. From AP classes, to time consuming sporting events, to part time jobs, to music concerts, to early morning meetings and somehow balancing school work in between. Learning this balancing act takes years of practice. However, when you finally have everything down it is most likely time to move onto the next step. As our final year at Milford High School comes closer and closer I truly feel we have grown together as a class. As a united class, we are onto the next chapter. I hope 2013 understands how privileged I feel to represent them as we move forward. Class of 2012 - we wish you the best of luck and success in whichever path you may choose after MHS.

Upperclassmen At Last!

"Tryin' to make it work, but man, these times are hard." This lyric, from the Script's song, "For the First Time," has repeatedly run through my mind over these past few years, certainly, something similar has gone through yours as well. The truth is that sometimes high school can be an extremely challenging time in life. Although this is the time to enjoy being young, it doesn't change the fact that these years bring with them a number of hardships. We haven't just survived these hardships; instead, we pushed through the obstacles and came out on top. Leaving MHS as Sophomores, we will enter them once again as upperclassmen.

"We Made It!"

Knees buckling, teeth clattering, nail biting, tears dripping...the first day of Freshmen year. Besides these embarrassing convulsions, all I could do was think: When will I get shoved into a locker? When will my first atomic wedgie be? When will I first get lost in the halls and tread down to in-house? How am I going to survive all of this? Despite all of these questions and fears, I, as well as the rest of my class, was determined to make it through the year and pass with flying colors. I could not be more proud of what my class has done, and we still have three years together to exceed expectations. The class of 2015 has limitless potential, and together, we can surpass even our wildest dreams. We made it! Congratulations!

Students Survive Daily Coursework to Excel in Activities

The students at Milford High School are involved in so much more than just academic classes. Because the school is very diverse, there are many clubs and activities that allow every student to find something they are interested in. It is the extra-curricular activities and events where students can shine and show their talents and abilities outside of the classroom. They survive the daily grind within each individual club bringing them closer together. Every activity plays an important role at MHS and many students are involved in more than just one. Yearbook: The Ultimate Survival Experience

Editor-in-Chief Michaela Niro

This year, the yearbook's focus was on survival. Not necessarily surviving life itself, but more specifically overcoming obstacles. Every person at one point or another has been challenged, whether it is from a difficult test or an argument with a friend on the playground. It is not these challenges that define who we are; rather it is how we endure through these difficulties that shape the people we become. This yearbook is a testament to the people that we are becoming. It is a record of everything that we have endured throughout our lives thus far and it is a reminder to us that no matter what challenge crosses our path, we will survive. Our high school years should be filled with the utmost memories, and with those memories and dreams this yearbook was formed. I would like to thank our class, the staff, our advisers, and administration for making this yearbook possible.

Without the cooperation, motivation, and organization of everyone who participated in this yearbook, it would not have been created. This yearbook is the first challenge of our lives past high school as it is a keepsake of what we dream to become. Our challenge: to believe in our dreams and become what we believe.

Co-Editors

Katie Johnson & Alicia Boulos

From the first day of senior year, we knew we would be faced with new and exciting adventures. Little did we know, the 2012 yearbook would make it to the top of the list. Behind the everyday stresses of high school and the added stresses of meeting deadlines and creative road blocks, were the moments of inspiration that made it all worth it. We would like to thank the entire yearbook staff, the senior class, and our advisors for dealing with us during the days where nothing seemed to go as planned. We are happy to say that working on the 2012 yearbook has not only taught us valuable life lessons, but the work came with the satisfaction and pride of producing an incredible book. While our education in Milford comes to an end, we hope that with this book comes memories from the past and present that will last throughout our futures. With dedication and perseverance, WE SURVIVED YEARBOOK 2012!

MHS Athletes and Fans Survive All Obstacles in 2011-2012

Because of the Division I title that Milford holds for athletics, school spirit has not been hard to find. The teams at Milford High School are known to be some of the best teams in the Mid-Watchusett league. The top athletes of each team are often recognized through awards, however, it takes dedicated and spirited fans to make a sport truly worthwhile. The SuperFan section at Milford has grown significantly over the past few years.

Between the painted bodies, the white, black, and red shirts and the deafening roaring cheer of the fans, Milford has become one of the most spirited schools in the league. Even with the football team's relocation, the SuperFan section stayed true to their team and traveled to Medway. The talented and dedicated players and the loud and equally dedicated SuperFan section are what make Milford High School one of the hardest teams to beat in the League.

"The spirit, the will to win, and the will to excel are the things that endure. These qualities are so much more important than the events that occur."

-Vince Lombardi

Hawks Survive Relocation to Medway

The 2011 Varsity Football team finished 4-7 this year; one win away from making the playoffs. The Hawks had great leadership from their Seniors and Captains Chris Casey, JJ Branch, and Jarrod Casey. The team decided to keep the tradition started last year by getting mohawks at the start of the season. With team issues and injuries plaguing the Hawks, the team still battled through every game. The Scarlet Hawks fought the teams in Mid-Wach A. They came out and dominated league rival, Shrewsbury Colonials, offensively and defensively Thanksgiving Day, winning 24-6. The Scarlet Hawks also beat Leominster, the reigning Superbowl champions, 21-20, on a safety. The Hawk's success was possible because of the coaches and players creating a family like no other.

Cheerleaders Survive the Journey to Nationals

The 2011 fall cheerleaders began the season not knowing what to expect. With a lot of hard work and dedication, the team unexpectedly came together and began to excel at the difficult routine they were given. Between practices, football games, and competitions, the cheerleaders strived to do their absolute best and became noticed by everyone. Even when faced with injuries and illnesses, the team pulled it together and made the best of their situations. With the strong leadership of the Senior Captains Alexis MacRae, Alicia Boulos, Erica Gattozzi, and Alyssa Vieira, the fall cheerleaders placed first at Leagues and second at Regionals. After coming in fourth out of thirteen of the best Division II teams in the state, the team went to Nationals for the first time in twenty seven years. All the success brought the team of 22 girls together and created a bond that will never be broken.

MHS Golf Survives Tough Goal; Leading Them to Districts

Entering this season, the expectations and potential were high for the 2011 MHS Golf team. This team had a talented group of guys, which was led by their Captains, Mat Roxo, Matt Ferelli, Dave Rice, and Ryan Boldy. With a goal of qualifying for districts, something that can only be accomplished with a .500 record or better, the MHS Golf team accomplished it, finishing the season at 8-8, 6-6 in the Mid Wach A. Their success on the course led them to districts, and it was the first season since the 1970's that an MHS Golf team had qualified. At districts, they finished 8th out of 11 as a team, unfortunately not a finish that would lead them to States, ending their great season. The season included key victories over rivals, Algonquin and North Middlesex. They also shot a team and school best, 196, against Shrewsbury.

Lady Hawks Survive Tough Losses and Celebrate Record-Breaking Time

The 2011 Girls Swimming and Diving season was filled with many surprises. This year's team, led by Captains Gloria Lima, Jodie Martin, Juliana Sheehan, Katie Johnson, and Leah Kosteva, brought many talented and motivated swimmers together as they faced the tough losses and whole-heartedly celebrated their wins. The team finished with a record of 3-9 along with an exciting 5th place score at the Southern Conference meet, but the season was far from over. The team continued to dominate with a powerful State and Sectional team made up of the team's top swimmers: Abby Kline, Allie Piergustavo, Angela Sabo, Christina Cosquete, Maddy Garber, Samantha Cosquete, and diver Juliana Sheehan. With Maddy Garber's 5th place, school record breaking time, Abby Kline's 10th place win and places in the 200 free relay and 400 medley relay, the team scored 23rd at Sectionals and 9th at States. It was truly an exciting finale to a season of improvement, comraderie, and fun for the Milford Lady Hawks Swimming and Diving team.

GIRLS SOCCER

Girls Soccer Survives Injuries and Upsets

The 2011 Girls Soccer team came into double sessions not knowing what to expect. When the team was finally chosen, there were 12 returning Seniors, 5 Juniors, 2 Sophomores, and 2 incoming Freshmen; the team had great expectations. Through injuries and upsets, the team stuck together. Led by Captains Olivia Grose and Jenna Vondras, they finished their season with a record of 8-7-3. The girls made it to first round playoffs but lost to Quabbin. The team would have to describe themselves as more of a family than anything. The constant sleepovers and scavenger hunts brought them closer than ever. As the season came to a close, the girls wished it could have gone on forever. Though the team is losing 11 Seniors, there is still great hope for the 2012 Girls Varsity Soccer team. The girls still remain extremely close, and it will always be a Soccer family.

BOYS SOCCER

Boys Soccer Survives the Ups and Downs of the 2011 Season

The 2011 Boys Soccer team had six returning starters. Throughout the season, the team survived many ups and downs, but thanks to Coach Jim Asam, and his willingness to give each of them a chance to show their pride on the field, the 2011 team was one of the most balanced teams that the soccer program has seen in years. They started off with a four game winning streak. Although they did not achieve their main goal of making it into the playoffs, their attitudes remained positive; their "A" game never faded. With their strong goalie, Kevin O'Loughlin, a high powered offense led by Gustavo Rocha, and talented upperclass leadership, they were ready to do damage in the playoffs. However, after not beating Tantasqua, they kept their heads up despite not ending the season how they would have liked. Because of the talented underclassmen, there are promises of successful seasons to come.

Cross Country Runners Survive Test of Endurance

The Boys and Girls Cross Country teams both had their strongest performances in years in the fall of 2011. Led by Senior Captains Jeremiah Shyne, Michelle Savoie, and Shawn Luce, the boys had wins against Fitchburg and Leominster, as well as an upset victory over rival, Algonquin. The girls defeated Fitchburg, Leominster, and their non-league opponent, Hopedale. Both teams also had strong showings in the District-E

Meet this year, with the boys finishing in 12th place, and the girls having strong individual performances. The boys team was led by Juniors Matt Cicciu and Connor Rosenblatt, and Senior Jeremiah Shyne. The girls team was led by Seniors Michelle Savoie and Sade Cole, and Sophomore Lauren Keisling. The teams hope to build on this year's success with even better results next year because of their young core of athletes.

Girls Volleyball Survives Last Season With Coach Zachilli

The girls Volleyball team had big goals and high expectations for Coach Zachilli's final year. As a young team, having lost many Seniors from the previous year, the girls' ability to compensate, work hard, and exemplify dedication was tested, to say the least. Since day one, their team goal was to make playoffs, which, with a 10-8 record, was achieved.

The team was led by Seniors Lizzie Flumere, Jillian Glynn, Reba Barrows and Carina Filosa, along with Senior tri-captains Brittany Hill, Christine Fraga and Kendall Lindsey. Through weekends in Maine, fun day, and pasta dinners, their team became a family, which made all the difference on the court, setting them apart from other teams.

FIELD HOCKEY

Field Hockey Survives a Brand New Team

Coming into the 2011 season, the girls knew they had great expectations to live up to. After previously losing 10 Seniors, and entering the season with only one returning starter, a lot of big roles needed to be filled. Being one of the first years with a group of girls ranging in levels of experience, finding a balance to be able to work together as a team was no easy task. However, with a significant amount of offseason practices, games, camps, and motivation during the season, the girls demonstrated their dedication and willingness to live up to the challenge. Throughout the season, the team battled with a tough schedule, and although the scoreboard did not always reflect the actual effort put into the game, the girls never let up hope. In return, they always displayed a strong sense of sportsmanship, which was frequently noted by others coaches, officials, and spectators at the games. One of the most inspirational moments of the season was the team's last game against Fitchburg, whose rough weather and field conditions did not impose a threat on the girls. Instead, their permanent desire and teamwork until the final whistle led them to a well deserved 1-0 victory over Fitchburg. This season was definately one to remember, and the five seniors will be greatly missed.

CHEERLEADING

Cheerleaders Travel To Georgia Hoping to Bring Home a Trophy

The 2011-2012 winter season for the cheerleaders was different than any other season before. After a very successful fall season, the Varsity cheerleaders prepared themselves for a trip to Nationals. This opportunity has not been given to the cheerleaders in 27 years, and the girls worked their hardest to perfect their routine in hopes of bringing home a trophy -- or two -- from Georgia. The cheerleaders made slight changes to their routine for the better and improved aspects that needed enhancing. Along with practices in preparation for the trip, the team of nineteen girls cheered on the boys Varsity Basketball team during their season and mentored the Junior Varsity cheerleading team of girls eager to improve their cheerleading abilities. The opportunity of a lifetime to go to Nationals only brought the team closer, and they look forward to celebrating their accomplishments together in Georgia.

BOYS BASKETBALL

Boys Survive Inexperience and Make Playoffs

In the 2011-2012 season, the Boys Basketball team put last year behind them as they secured a big win on the road at Wellesley on opening night. The Scarlet Hawks dedicated that game to Coach Seaver as he fights ALS. With only three Seniors, experience was a major question going into the season. However, the Juniors with the help of a few Sophomores helped fill the vacant shoes as Milford clinched a seed in the post season only 13 games in with an outstanding 10-3 record. Although the underclassmen had only three Seniors to look up to, those Seniors hoped to make a good impression. The talent in the underclassmen is virtually limitless going forward. The fan support, also known as "The Jungle", was tremendous, and the team appreciated the support as they moved through a fantastic season.

Girls' Survival Depends on Teamwork

The 2011-2012 Girls Basketball team was led by Senior Captains, Christine Fraga and Natasha Gonzalez. Although the team only lost two Seniors last year, they started off the season as a very young team with just six returning varsity players, five of which were 2012 graduating Seniors; Kendall Lindsey, Reba Barrows, Mikayla Pasciuto, Chrissy Fraga and Natasha Gonzalez. Even though the Girl's team was very young, they were looking to have a successful season and qualified for Districts for the second year in a row. One of their favorite quotes from the season was: "Players win games; teams win championships." They knew from the start of the season, if they were going to be successful, they needed to work hard and play as one. Each girl on the team had the athletic ability and skill to score a number of baskets, but when they put their defense and offense together and played as a whole, they were a force to be reckoned with.

Wrestlers Survive Sectionals

The Varsity Wrestling Team ended their season with a record of 19-6. Led by captains Mark Pinto, Jake Stallone, Tim Curtain-White, and Chris Costa, the team became 3-time Midland-Wachusett League champions and team sectional runner-ups. The team then qualified for the Team State tournament in Lowell. After securing a confident win against Catholic Memorial, they were knocked out in the next round by a strong Winchester team, marking their last team match. The Wrestlers then moved on to compete individually. Three members of the team captured individual Sectional titles: Mark Pinto 132, Tim Curtain-White 170, and Jake Stallone 182. The team sent 11 wrestlers to compete at Division II states, where 3 wrestlers placed: Mark Pinto placing 2nd, Jake Stallone placing 6th, and Roberto Dosantos also placing 6th. Those three wrestlers then went to compete at All-States, but did not place, bringing the teams season to an end.

ICE HOCKEY

MHS Hockey Survives Successful Season

The 2011-2012 Varsity Hockey season has been extremely successful. The team's current record of 8-8-1 gives Milford its best record since the program's inception. Sophomores Brad White and Jared Balzarini are the team's leading point scorers. Both players rank in the top five in the Russell Conference. Despite being a first year goalie, Senior Alex Gilbert has proven to be a tremendous asset to the team. This year's additions of off-ice training and team community service have also been beneficial. Although Milford will be joining the Division 2 Hockomock League next year, the team will be strong competitors in this higher division as there are many talented young players and only four graduating seniors. The outlook for the future of Milford High Hockey is very promising.

Boys Swimming Survives and Succeeds

The Men's 2011-2012 Swimming and Diving season was one of great achievement. The team, which contained a range of outstanding personalities, was led to a 4-4 record by Senior Captains Zachary Loiselle and Vincent Sabo, as well as Junior Captain John Fitzgerald. Among many other accomplishments, the team won fifth place at the Southern Conference Championships, sent two relay teams to Sectional and State Championships, and sent a Sophomore diver, Michael Mason, to the Sectional Diving meet for the first time in 14 years. Additionally, the team was extremely fortunate to have Kevin Bradley, a dedicated swimmer who never failed to shock opposing teams with his speed and skill, as a team member. After being part of the Southern Conference for 22 years, the Boys Swimming and Diving team will leave the Conference to join the Hockomock League with the entire M.H.S. Athletics Program and to increase its great reputation once again.

Indoor Track Team Races for Survival

The 2011-2012 Indoor Track Team had many high expectations this season. Despite more than 110 athletes, no facility to practice in, and Coach Sciavi's ab workouts, those expectations were met. By the end of the season, the girls' team had a record of 4-3 and the boys' team had a record of 1-6. In addition to the great season the team had, school records were broken left and right with the help of outstanding coaches and the cooperation, motivation, and hard work of the athletes. Senior captain, Michelle Savoie broke records in high jump, the 55 meter dash, the 600 meter race, and long jump. In addition to her accomplishments, Junior Siaina Campbell broke the school record in the Shot Put competition throwing 33 feet and 9 inches! The boys team also broke two important records, one in the 4 by 400 meter race, ran by Justin Asam, Brandon Pounds, Matt Cicciu, and John O'Neil and the other in the 4 by 800 meter race, ran by Justin Asam, Matt Cicciu, Connor Rosenblatt, and Jeremiah Shyne. Both teams had impressive seasons and will be saying good bye to 24 seniors this year. The success of this year and its athletes has left much hope for the upcoming season and many more to follow.

Surviving Disabilities to Compete

Special Olympics allows individuals with disabilities to compete on sports teams for every season. The individuals on these teams survive their disabilities and differences to come together and play as a team. Each team plays a qualifying game which allows them to play a State game. The State games allow the teams to go away for a weekend and compete for gold, silver, and bronze medals. In the year of 2011, flag football was added. The highlight of the flag football team was going to Gillette Stadium to play their games. The flag football team also had cheerleaders, who went to Gillette. Special Olympics is a great way for individuals with disabilities to come together to be active and show their athletic talent.

MVP AWARDS

Athletes Survive Tough Competition

At the end of each season, athletes at MHS are recognized for their hard work and dedication. Each sport offers a banquet as an end of the season celebration to acknowledge the many goals that the team set and accomplished. The athletes with the greatest work ethic and the most perseverance are chosen by their coaches and Athletic Director, Coach Piergustavo. Those individuals are highlighted at the banquet with an award based on their accomplishments throughout the season. There are many awards given out, but the "Most Valuable Player" is the most sought after award. The athletes who receive this award in each sport are usually voted for by their teammates. MVP's are those who go above and beyond what is required, and they qualify for all the other awards as well. In the words of Mr. Piergustavo, an MVP is, "the biggest difference maker in a positive way on a given team." MVP's are the ones who make the difference between wins and losses as well as positively influencing the culture and attitude of the team. The Most Valuable Players are the ones who help their teams survive whatever comes their way.

MHS Faculty's Survival Skills Serve Students Well

The faculty at MHS is unlike any other. Their dedication to the students goes beyond the classroom to what is considered "mod five". Because of their dedication and hopes for their student's success, many become mentors, advisors, and coaches in a way to help the students survive the obstacles of high school. They encourage the students to become more than who they thought they could be and challenge them to see beyond what is obvious. Without their help, the students would not excel and succeed in everything they do, inside and outside of the classroom. The sports banners, the academic awards, and the applause at the end of a great performance are the true signs of the dedication and hard work that the MHS faculty has provided for their students. They teach so much more than an academic subject or special skill and manage to change the lives of thousands of students over the years.

MHS Faculty Survive Over Twenty Years at the High School

Ms. Yacovone, Mr. Protano, Mrs. Gillis, Mrs. Carolyn Marcolini, and Mrs. Carol Adams have been members of the MHS staff for years. They have done everything from teaching, advising, and serving lunch to being there for the students each and every year. Their educational lessons, along with the life lessons they have provided their students, have proven their dedication to the entire community at MHS. After surviving 20+ years of work, they are now ready to say goodbye and move onto the next chapters in their lives. These five members of MHS will be greatly missed in the years to come, and their help will never be forgotten. They have been helping students survive the challenges of high school for more than two decades, and even if their time here at MHS is over, the gratitude we have for these four faculty members will never end. The class of 2012, along with the rest of the students staff, faculty, and administration at MHS, would like to wish you all luck in the next chapters of your lives!

Carol Marcolini, Pre-Vocational

Mrs. Marcolini, "Carol" to all of her students and colleagues; has been an integral part of the Pre-Vocational students' experience here at Milford High School for many years. Mrs. Marcolini's caring personality and nurturing ways have given her students knowledge of basic everyday life skills as well as skills in appropriate social behavior and etiquette. Mrs. Marcolini would like to travel, relax, exercise and soak up the sun at the beach during her well-deserved retirement.

"I will miss all of my kids and co-workers!" - Carolyn Marcolini

Carol Adams, Food Service

The Milford High School lunch ladies serve a very important purpose in the high school. Not only do they provide us with lunch every single day, but they also have a way of completely uplifting anyone's bad mood with their happy and friendly demeanor and their wonderful smiles. Carol Adams is one of these amazing women. She had been employed with the Milford School Food Service department for thirty-five years. The 2011-2012 school year is her final year at the high school and it's safe to say that everyone is sad to see her go. In her thirty-five years she had served over fifteen million lunches with her always warm and friendly smile. She has dedicated her life to brightening the lives of students and teachers alike with her wonderful service and her kind personality. After retiring Carol plans to travel with her husband of over fifty years. Although we are sad to see her go, we wish her luck in her life outside of the high school. The MHS community, staff and students alike, will miss her greatly.

Theresa Gillis, English

Mrs. Gillis is a tireless and dedicated part of the English Department and is best known for her literature of the sea. She has introduced countless teens to the Great White Whale that was Ahab's nemesis, and his undoing, which in turn allowed them to understand those factors in their own lives. Mrs. Gillis also helped students consider the need to stop and focus on what is really important to them, using meditation to slow down and consider their place in this fast paced world. Mrs Gillis's Russian and French commands will be sorely missed by future generations of Milford High graduates, but we wish her the best in the many new adventures and discoveries that lie ahead for her. Congratulations, Mrs. Gillis!

"We are at our best when we teach ourselves what we need to learn"

Robert Protano, Science

Mr. Protano began teaching at Milford High School in September of 1981. Fondly referred to as "Mr. Weather", Mr. Protano was often consulted by superintendents, athletic directors and coaches alike as to whether or not to have school, or call off a game or cancel practice. Mr. Protano has been a key component of the science department for many years as a model educator with a passion for science, particularly physics and meteorology, a course which he developed. Throughout the years, Mr. Protano has contributed to Milford High School and the community as a coach, advisor and union representative. Admired and respected by his students and colleagues alike, Mr. Protano will be remembered as quick witted and easy going in his approach to students and the rigors of teaching.

"Regardless how chaotic or complicated your day is, always remember to include a smile and a few kind words and your bad day wil become a great day." - Mr. Protano

Jane Yacovone, Visual Arts CTL

Ms. Yacovone is synonymous with the words "art" and "creativity". In the 29 years she resided in Room E2 as an art instructor, she also advised the Art Club and yearbook . Upon taking the reins of the MHS chapter of NAHS and the Visual Arts Department, she brought a renewed sense of purpose and organization to each role. As important as each of these are, her most lasting and vital gift to the students and faculty of MHS is her passion for traveling and ability to pass on her experiences and knowledge through organized and enthusiastic classroom instruction. In 2005, Ms. Yacovone was awarded a scholarship to attend the Japan Fulbright Memorial Fund Teacher Program. This experience fostered student Art Exhibits, Musical Performances, and Book Fairs at Barnes & Noble . Ms. Yacovone has traveled to many countries, yet there are more destinations on her agenda! We wish her well as she begins this new chapter pursuing her passion in photography and unlimited travel, no longer scheduled around school vacations!

I want to thank all the talented students who encouraged me to be visually aware, culturally inspired, and dedicated."
- Ms. Yacovone

"There are painters, who transform the sun into a yellow spot, but there are others who, with the help of their art and their intelligence, transform a yellow spot into the sun." - Pablo Picasso

Peer Mediation: Students Helping Students Survive Disagreements

Peer mediation is a special organization that has been working behind the scenes at MHS for years to help keep the peace among students. The students involved in this program help their fellow students survive disagreements by talking through the conflict in a neutral environment. Each peer mediator has been trained in appropriate conflict resolution techniques that focus on the importance of respect and tolerance. The program was started by current Stacy Middle School Principal, Nancy Angelini in 1994 when she was teaching at the High School. The program was then continued by former faculty member, John Bisiccia. Ms. Burd took over the program upon Mr. Bisiccia's retirement in 2008 and has run the program with great success. Peer Mediators often go unrecognized, and seldom get the credit and appreciation they deserve. Therefore, the 2012 yearbook staff would like to thank all current and past mediators and their advisors for performing such a vital service for our school.

Due to a large Sophomore class and a lack of space in the underclassman section, Mr. Liberto's and Mr. Vanderkyl's pictures were not placed on the opening page of the 2014 portrait section. We would like to recongize their dedication to their class here and thank them for their understanding! Keep up the great work - only two years until graduation!

-The 2012 Yearbook Staff

MHS Guess Who?

You thought you knew who the mystery faculty and staff babies were that were featured on page 18 in the Younger Years section. But were you right? If you guessed Ms. Yacovone, Mr. Grillo, Mr. McIntyre, and Ms. Duca you were correct!

Mr. McIntyre and Mrs. Duca,

On behalf of the students of the Senior class, we would like to say thank you for the work you have put into our well-being. This thank you is long overdue as well as incredibly deserved. The dedication you have put into monitoring our class activities, as well as making sure we stayed on task throughout our years as students at Milford High School has led us to becoming responsible, independent individuals. The pride you both exhibit for our school far exceeds the average and as we step onto the podium we will reflect on your hard work and dedication.

-The Class of 2012 Leadership

In the course of the calendar year that it takes to create a yearbook, we experience countless roadblocks, hurdles, and dramas - memories we, as advisors, would rather forget! However, we also have the opportunity to work with a group of people, who make those difficult experiences well worth the effort and a few individuals who enable us to make each new year smoother than the previous.

Individuals in the later group include Mr. Tempesta, Mr. McIntyre, who always has the answer we need; Mrs. Banach who ensures that important dates and times work as we need them to; Mrs. Soderberg, Mrs. McCallum, Mrs. Duca, and Mrs. Cedrone who are endlessly patient with the yearbook staff's endless requests; and Mr. Pinto, whose prior yearbook experience and photographic expertise are invaluable to us.

Our effort would be wasted if not for an exceptional staff and the leadership of three amazing editors, Michaela Niro, Alicia Boulos, Katie Johnson, who have made overcoming roadblocks and hurdles a fine art. Thanks to each member of the 2012 Yearbook staff we have survived another year! Congratulations and good luck!

From the moment you were born, you never settled for less. You love being treated like a princess, and we think you are the "prettiest princess" ever. You are never afraid of a challenge, and you always come out "on top". In addition to always being at the top, you can always get to the bottom of anything, and you reward yourself with some of the "sweeter things" in life. You love being the center of attention, but we don't mind because you are the center of our world. Christina,

You have been waiting for and dreaming about this moment for a long time. For you, it may have seemed like a long journey, for us, we still see the three year old at Shining Star, the little girl getting on the bus for Woodland, and the teenager learning to drive the truck. We are so proud and excited for you as you take the next step in your life. Always remember your past and the strong foundation of family and friends that have guided you to this graduation day. We know that you will be successful wherever you go. We will always be there to love and support you every step of the way.

We love you!

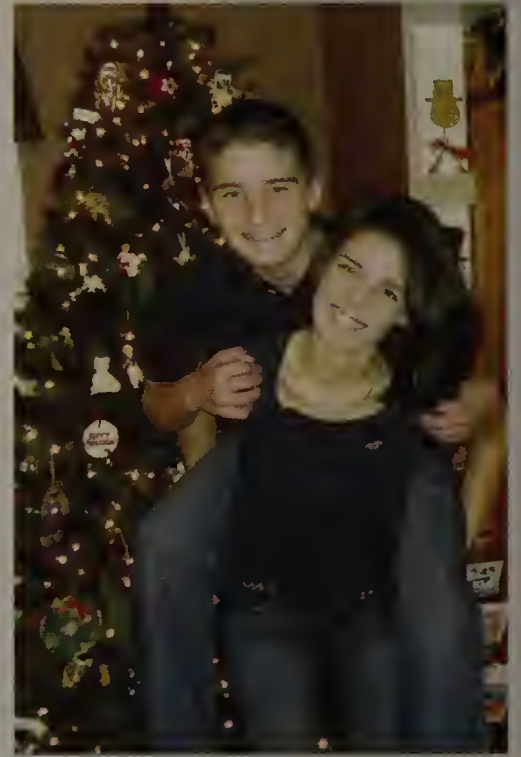

Mom, Dad, Matthew, Rachel, and Abby and Jo Jo too!

Dear Samantha,

Congratulations! We are very proud of you. You're #4 on the field and #1 in our hearts. Stay strong, keep smiling, work hard, and you will be successful in all that you do. Remember, in a world where you can be anything, be yourself.

We love ya!

Don't be afraid to make mistakes, to stumble and fall, because most of the time the greatest rewards come from doing the things that scare you the most. Surviving the Spring Semester Made Easy

There are many events during the spring semester that, along with unusually warm weather (70+ degrees in March!), have led to many survival stories for the students. These events include tech week for the spring musical, Pinocchio, and another Spirit Week. Pinocchio is a play that the Italian 2 students put on during Mrs. Bertonazzi-Valaouras' class. She has been running this production every Spring for 22 years! The participating students are randomly selected for each part. The last stand out event for the students is Spirit Week. This Spring's Spirit Week days included scrub/p.j day, superhero day, twin day, formal day, and class colors day.

However, a last minute change was made to formal day, changing it to sports/hat day. Most of the students survived this last minute change and were able to show their spirit with sports clothes and hats. However Seniors, Natalie Tessicini and Pedro DeSouza, missed the change and dressed up for formal day with a little twist. This year's Spirit week also included Milford High's own take on March Madness with a student basketball tournament. Though the students in every grade had a lot on their plates from MCAS to final college acceptances, these special school events made it a little easier to survive being in school as the the warm weather returned.

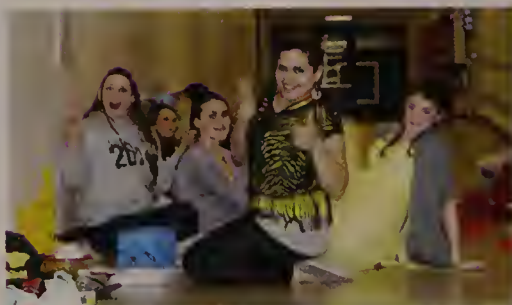

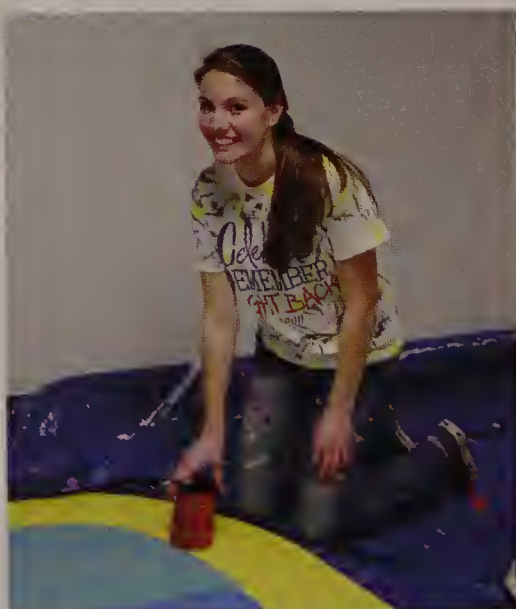

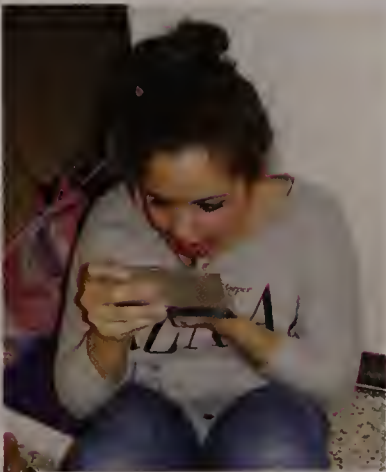

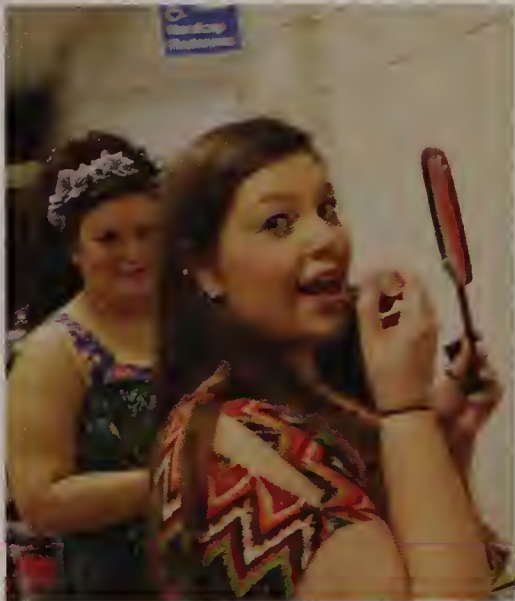

Crew, Cast, Pit, and Tech Survive Late Nights

The MHS Theater Workshop survived another lengthy two and a half months leading up to the 2012 Spring musical tech week. The upbeat, colorful show, "Seussical the Musical", spawned hopeful and spirited attitudes for everyone involved. After five days of hard work and perseverance, the cast, crew, pit, and tech teams survived long rehearsals, late nights, and serious sleep deprivation. However, the effort was worth it! The amazing dedication of the entire workshop, including the advisors, paid off with three outrageously successful shows. Surviving tech week took on new meaning for all Seniors involved as they experienced the final performances of their high school careers.

Congratulations to our "Toph"!

We are all so proud of you.

The best is yet to come!

Spread Wings, Soar

Stepping off the Safety of the Sidewalk
Plunging into the uncertainties of my current Reality
Work and Progress begin to unveil our eyes to the light of the future
Blinding
Afraid to walk away from what I have called comfort for so long
Afraid to leave this Nest
My own Wings frighten me, for the endless Possibilities they hold
Within the past four years, a blur of Endless Memories
Falling down and learning to get back Up again
No defeat
The confines of these walls brought knowledge and growth
Changing all the inhabitants held within
Vast in numbers, vast in abilities, vast in thoughts, one as a class
Standing at the cusp
We let ourselves hang over the edge of our future
Caps flying in the air, we watch them, Rise
Free
We all Leap, spread our wings, the Wind catches us
Our lives Change, something's Different
It all Begins
